Mission Statement

It shall be the mission of the Frederick County Sheriff's Office to provide fair, unbiased law enforcement services to the public, while respecting the individual's constitutional rights.

Code of Ethics

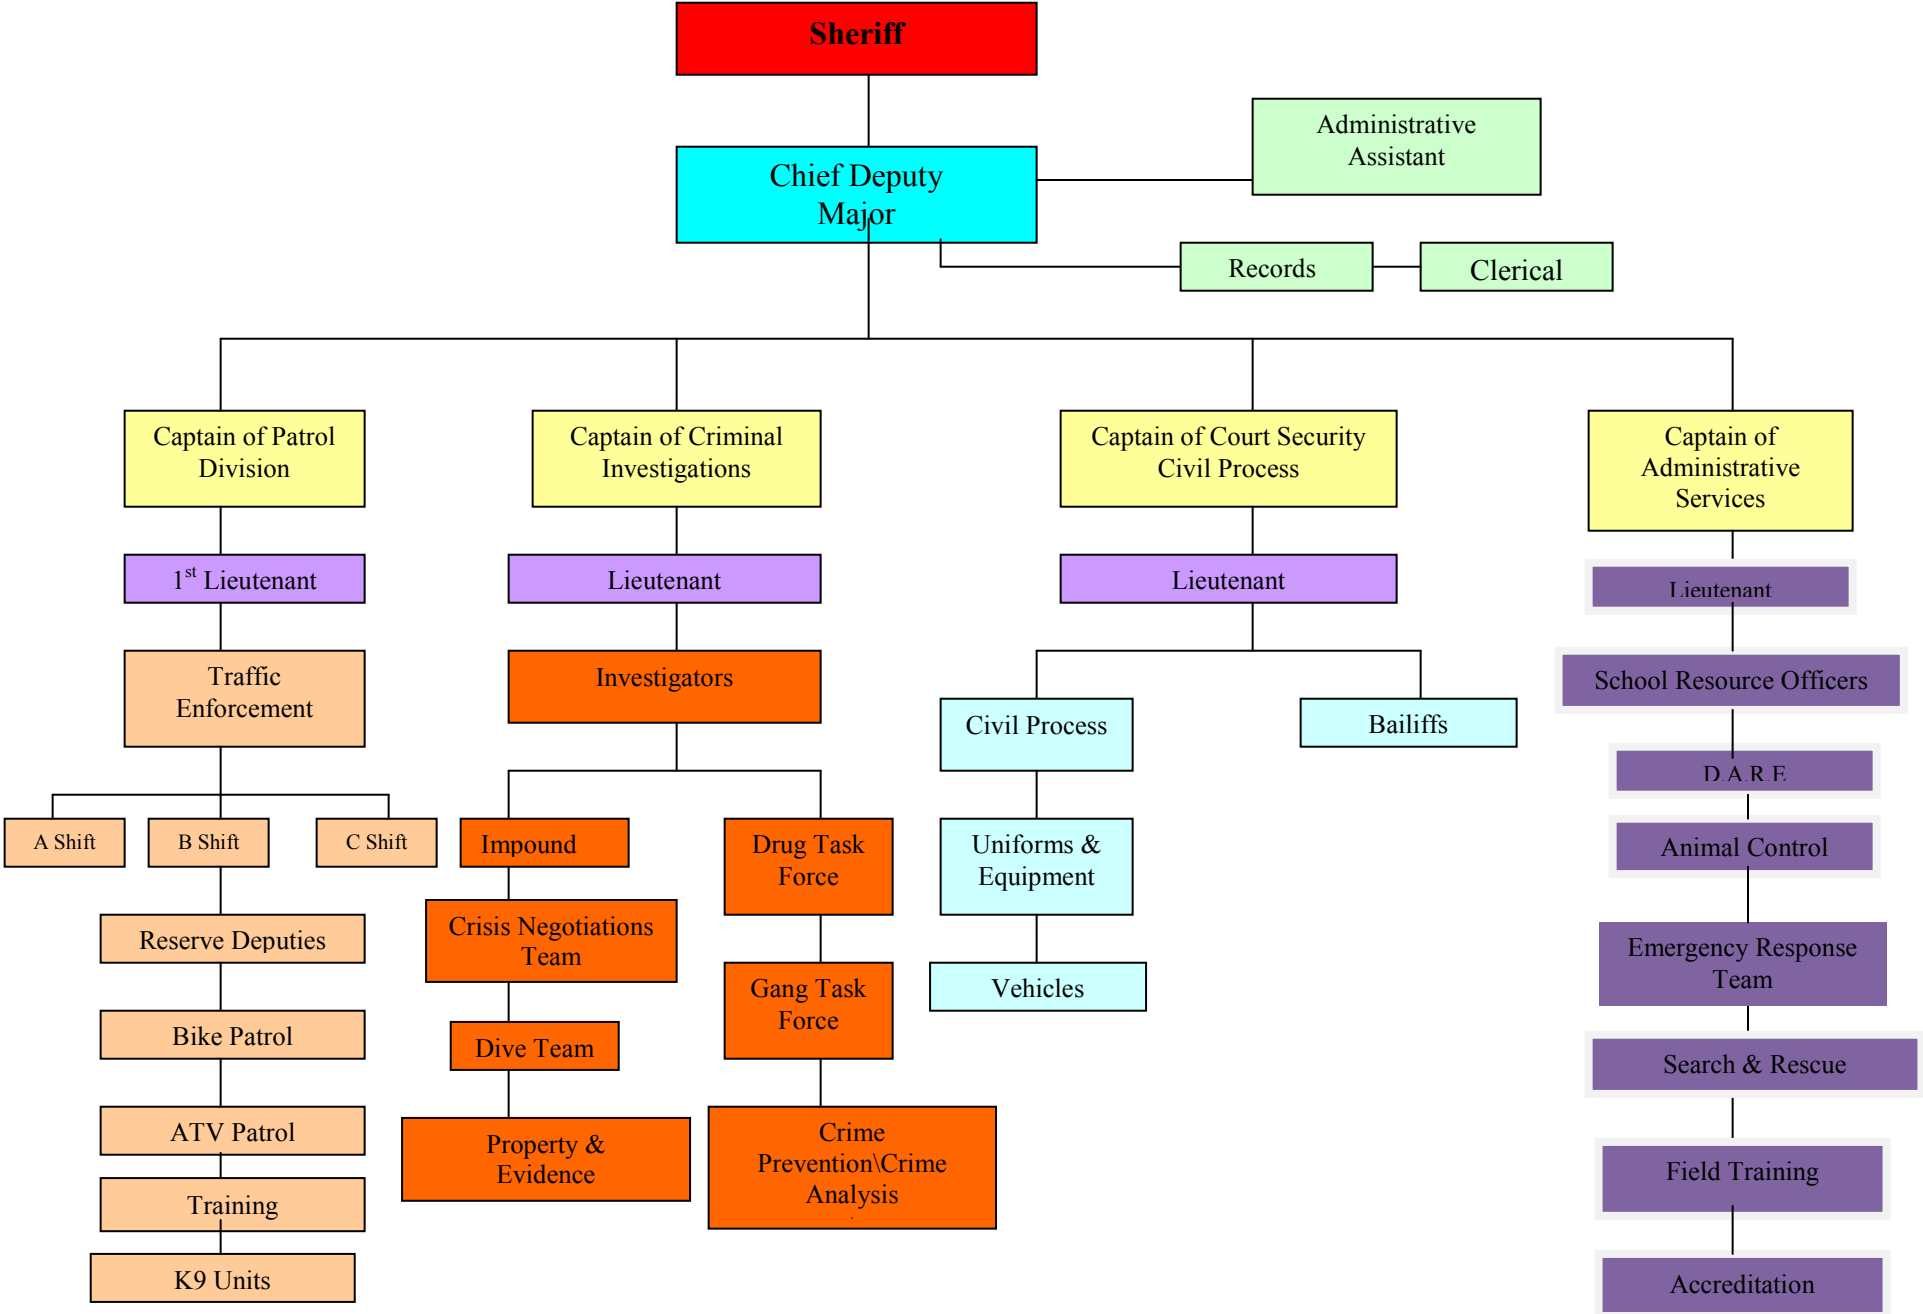

“As a law enforcement officer, my fundamental duty is to serve mankind; to safeguard lives and property; to protect the innocent against deception, the weak against oppression or intimidation, and the peaceful against violence or disorder; and to respect the constitutional rights of all men to liberty, equality, and justice.

I will keep my private life unsullied as an example to all; maintain courageous calm in the face of danger, scorn or ridicule; develop self-restraint; and be constantly mindful of the welfare of others. Honest in thought and deed in both my personal and official life, I will be exemplary in obeying the law of the land and the regulations of my Office. Whatever I see or hear of a confidential nature that is confided to me in my official capacity will be kept ever secret, unless revelation is necessary in the performance of duty.

I will never act officiously or permit personal feelings, prejudice, animosities, or friendships to influence my decisions with no compromise for crime and with relentless prosecution of criminals. I will enforce the law courteously and appropriately without fear or favor, malice, or ill will, never employing unnecessary force or violence and never accepting gratuities.

I recognize the badge of my office as a symbol of public faith, and I accept it as a public trust, to be held so long as I am true to the ethics of public service. I will constantly strive to achieve these objectives and ideals, dedicating myself before God to my chosen profession-law enforcement.”

Inv. Hipple received this award for her commitment to the Sheriff's Office, and her perseverance on her criminal cases.

Employee(s) of the Month – Chester Renner, Christopher Darlington, and Aaron Jeter

Employees of the Month: Chester Renner, Christopher Darlington, and Aaron Jeter

On July 10th, 2015, a team of three Deputies who serve for the Frederick County Sheriff's Department, which included Chester Renner, Christopher Darlington, and Aaron Jeter stopped a vehicle for speeding.

After a complete investigation, the Deputies were able to seize 261 packets of heroin. Generally, a patrol deputy would not see this amount of drugs during their entire career. However, with the common trend of heroin tied to thefts, overdoses, and deaths; these Deputies are to be commended for getting the heroin out of our community and quite possibly saving a life.

Each Deputy has received Employee of the Month for August (Jeter), September (Renner), and October (Darlington).

Captain Aleck Beeman

FBI National Academy

Captain Aleck Beeman was selected to attend the FBI's National Academy at Quantico Virginia. The competitive selection process can take several years to complete the process and finally be accepted into the program. Captain Beeman spent 10 weeks with law enforcement officers from all over the United States and 25 foreign countries. The National Academy emphasizes comradery among law enforcement and concentrates on developing the student's leadership skills. Captain Beeman graduated from the National Academy on March 23, 2015.

Sheriff's Office Activities

Frederick County Fair

The Frederick County Sheriff's Office patrols the Frederick County Fair the entire week of the fair. The Sheriff's Office presence at the fair provides a safe environment for everyone attending, so that everyone can have a good time. The fair also provides deputies from the Sheriff's Office and the public an opportunity to interact and develop positive relationships.

Golden Seal Challenge for the Youth Development Center

On September 26, 2015 the Frederick County Sheriff's Office participated in the 3rd annual Golden Seal Charity Challenge Cup that is put on to support the Youth Development Center. The competition consists of 8 different events in which individual awards are issued as well as an overall award at the end. The events include: swimming, running, starting a fire, administering first aid, shooting, building and climbing a log wall, carrying sandbags, and climbing a rope. There were a total of 8 teams that entered the event this year. The team with the Frederick County Sheriff's Office was able to come in 1st place in the individual events of running, shooting, and carrying sandbags. Frederick County also came in 1st place in the Charity Challenge Cup event. The runner-up team was the Winchester Police Department and third place was a team from the US Army Recruitment. The team members for Frederick County were Lt. Jason Cornwell, AJ Kendra, Brian Smith, Stephen Gregory, Samantha Garrison, and Sarah Meade. Congratulations on the win!

Frederick County D.A.R.E Program

The Frederick County Sheriff's Office provides the D.A.R.E. program to the 11 elementary schools for Frederick County Public Schools. Almost 1,000 students participated in the D.A.R.E. program in 2015. The Sheriff's Office has received numerous accolades on Deputy Bowers' performance from students, teachers, and school administrators. The Sheriff's Office would like to thank all of the business and the individuals who contributed funds to the D.A.R.E. program; and Frederick County Public Schools for their continued support of the program.

The Frederick County Sheriff's Office congratulated Peyton Coomins, fifth grade student at Redbud Run Elementary School, for submitting the design concept for the 2015-2016 D.A.R.E (Drug Abuse Resistance Education) shirt.

Frederick County Sheriff's Office Youth Camp

The 17th annual Frederick County Sheriff's Office Youth Camp was a great success. Approximately 80 local children attended and helped with the weeklong camp at Tri-State Christian Camp. The campers and junior counselors enjoyed horseback riding, swimming, archery, and several athletic competitions. The Frederick County Sheriff's Office would like to thank the businesses and individuals who support the Youth Camp each year with their donations.

Homicide – Koller

August 21, 2015

WINCHESTER — After two Frederick County Sheetz stores were involved in an apparent series of raids involving cigarettes beginning Tuesday, officials with the multi-state corporation say they are cooperating with police.

“Sheetz is aware of an active investigation regarding cigarette sales and we are fully cooperating with the appropriate authorities on the matter,” public relations manager for the company Tarah Arnold stated in a Thursday email. “Due to the ongoing status of this investigation, there is no additional information available at this time.”

Throughout the day and night on Tuesday, federal, state and local authorities were seen conducting operations at a minimum of six county businesses.

They were:

The Sheetz stores at 1574 Martinsburg Pike in Stephenson and at 1503 North Frederick Pike.

The Virginia Cigarette Outlet and Discount Cigarette shops — at 109 and 111 Hopewell Road, respectively.

The Dollar Stretcher at 330 Welltown Road.

The Olde Stone Truck Stop at 3425 Martinsburg Pike.

The Virginia Cigarette Outlet and Discount Cigarette shops were both seen on Tuesday afternoon being searched by authorities, who piled what appeared to be hundreds of cardboard boxes containing thousands of cartons of cigarettes (various brands) in the parking lot of both stores.

At about the same time, officials were seen removing boxes containing what appeared to be numerous manila envelopes from a window on the second floor of the Olde Stone Truck Stop and loading them side by side on the roof of an attached, one-story building.

On Wednesday, two owners of the Dollar Stretcher confirmed that their store was also “raided.”

They said their entire cigarette inventory was seized, along with the money they had on hand at the store, files and personal cellphones. The owners said they had done nothing illegal. No other shop owners or personnel had spoken on the matter as of Thursday.

Frederick County Sheriff’s Office deputies, Virginia and West Virginia state police and agents with the federal Department of Homeland Security all appeared to be involved in the operations.

No information has been released concerning any criminal arrests or charges, though officials with Homeland Security have said that the U.S. Attorney’s Office of West Virginia would be handling the case.

WINCHESTER — If driving into Frederick County with 261 packets of heroin wasn't enough, trying to hide on an elected official's property with it after fleeing from a sheriff's deputy certainly was for four Pennsylvanians.

Frederick County Sheriff's deputies Aaron Jeter and Christopher Darlington, and Cpl. Chester Renner, received employee of the month awards for August, September and October at a Board of Supervisors meeting last week for their "outstanding performance" and "dedicated service" during the traffic stop in July.

In an interview with The Star on Tuesday, the three men related their accounts of what happened on the afternoon of July 10, when they seized more heroin than many deputies see during their entire careers.

Jeter said he was driving north on Martinsburg Pike (U.S. 11) toward Stephenson in a 45 mph zone when he passed a southbound car that he clocked at 81 mph. He said he did a quick U-turn and signaled with his lights.

Instead of stopping, the driver pulled onto the property of Frederick County Board of Supervisors Vice-Chairman Charles S. DeHaven. DeHaven said in a phone interview Wednesday that he was working in his shed when he saw a vehicle speed down his driveway. "Any time a vehicle comes down my driveway with that kind of speed, it's a concern," he said.

Shortly after the vehicle headed toward his greenhouse, DeHaven said, he saw a deputy sheriff's car in close pursuit and pointed in the direction of where the driver had gone. "I was glad to know what was going on and that it was [the deputy's] concern and not mine anymore," said DeHaven, who added that he returned to his shed after that. Jeter said once he located the vehicle, he called for backup, and Darlington and Renner arrived within minutes.

After Jeter spoke with the driver, 31-year-old Jason Thomas Seifert, of Munhall, and ran his car registration, Darlington and Renner asked his three passengers to step outside the car.

"They were acting very calm, but you could tell something wasn't right," Renner said. "They kept saying I could search the car. They didn't care." Darlington said the front seat passenger, 38-year-old Christopher James Sullivan, of South Park Township, looked "lethargic." "You could tell he was high," Darlington said.

When Darlington searched the car, he said he found a pill wrapped in cellophane — which later proved to be a legal muscle relaxer — and a syringe in the purse of 22-year-old Amanda Wagner-Martin, of Pittsburgh. "She said the syringe was for her foot that had swelled up," Renner said.

After Renner took the pill back to his vehicle to call poison control, he said he noticed white packages on the ground underneath the front passenger seat from where he was standing about 20 feet away.

Darlington and Renner removed the packages, read the four people their rights, and handcuffed them.

It took some prodding and questioning, Darlington said, but Sullivan eventually confessed that the white packages — which contained heroin — were his.

Sullivan then admitted he had four syringes inside the crotch area of his pants. "All of [the people in the car] were probably using," Renner said. There were 5¹/₂ white packages underneath the car, one of which was open.

Inside the packages were 261 squares of wax paper the size of a piece of Starburst candy that contained the heroin, according to Jeter, Renner and Darlington. "It's the most I've seen at one time," Darlington said. "You generally will find people using heroin for personal use, but it's not every day you find an amount large enough to distribute."

Jeter guessed the street value of the heroin seized to be about $10,000. "They were coming down here to make a profit," Jeter said. "It's cheaper to buy heroin in Pittsburgh." The approximate weight of the heroin seized was 39 grams.

Seifert was charged in Frederick County General District Court with reckless driving, eluding police and having no operator's license, according to Frederick County Sheriff Robert Williamson. He has a Sept. 28 court date.

Sullivan was charged with falsely identifying himself to a law enforcement officer, possession of a controlled substance classified as a schedule 1 or 2 drug with intent to manufacture, sell give or distribute. His next court date is Oct. 6. Wagner-Martin could still be charged, pending testing that's being done on the syringe that was in her purse. The other passenger, Todd Andrew Zalin, 26, of Pittsburgh, has not been charged.

"It goes to show you never know what's out there," Renner said.

2015 Statistics

DEFINITIONS USED FOR STATISTIC COUNTS

Property Crimes

In the Uniform Crime Reporting (UCR) Program, property crime includes the offenses of burglary, larceny-theft, motor vehicle theft, and arson. The object of the theft-type offenses is the taking of money or property, but there is no force or threat of force against the victims. The property crime category includes arson because the offense involves the destruction of property; however, arson victims may be subjected to force.

Sex offenses

Offenses against chastity, common decency, morals, and the like. Incest, indecent exposure, and statutory rape are included. Attempts, battery and child sex crimes are included.

Forcible rape

The carnal knowledge of a female forcibly and against her will. Rapes by force and attempts or assaults to rape, regardless of the age of the victim, are included. Statutory offenses (no force used—victim under age of consent) are excluded.

Violent Crimes

Violent crime is composed of four offenses: murder and nonnegligent manslaughter, forcible rape, robbery, and aggravated assault. According to the Uniform Crime Reporting (UCR) Program's definition, violent crimes involve force or threat of force.

Drug Abuse Violations

The violation of laws prohibiting the production, distribution, and/or use of certain controlled substances. The unlawful cultivation, manufacture, distribution, sale, purchase, use, possession, transportation, or importation of any controlled drug or narcotic substance. Arrests for violations of state and local laws, specifically those relating to the unlawful possession, sale, use, growing, manufacturing, and making of narcotic drugs. The following drug categories are specified: opium or cocaine and their derivatives (morphine, heroin, codeine); marijuana; synthetic narcotics?manufactured narcotics that can cause true addiction (demerol, methadone); and dangerous nonnarcotic drugs (barbiturates, benzedrine).

Driving under the influence Driving or operating a motor vehicle or common carrier while mentally or physically impaired as the result of consuming an alcoholic beverage or using a drug or narcotic.

Liquor laws The violation of state or local laws or ordinances prohibiting the manufacture, sale, purchase, transportation, possession, or use of alcoholic beverages, not including driving under the influence and drunkenness. Federal violations are excluded.

Drunkenness To drink alcoholic beverages to the extent that one's mental faculties and physical coordination are substantially impaired. Driving under the influence is excluded.
